ABOUT SINGAPORE

Singapore – A Garden City

Singapore is made up of not just one island but a main island with 63 surrounding islets. The main island has a total land area of 682 square km.

However, its compact size belies its economic growth. In just 150 years, Singapore has grown into a thriving centre of commerce and industry. Its former role as an entrepôt has diminished, as the nation has increased its manufacturing base.

Singapore is the busiest port in the world with over 600 shipping lines sending super tankers, container ships and passenger liners to share the busy waters with coastal fishing vessels and wooden lighters.

One of the world's major oil refining and distribution centres, Singapore is a major supplier of electronic components and a leader in shipbuilding and repairing. It has also become one of the most important financial centres of Asia, with more than 130 banks. Business dealings are facilitated by Singapore's superb communications network which links the nation to the rest of the world via satellite, 24-hour telegraph and telephone systems.

Singapore's strategic location, excellent facilities, fascinating cultural contrasts and tourist attractions contribute to its success as a leading destination for both business and pleasure.

ABOUT NTU

NTU – A Garden Campus

A research-intensive public university, Nanyang Technological University (NTU) has 33,500 undergraduate and postgraduate students in the colleges of Engineering, Business, Science and Humanities, Arts, & Social Sciences. In 2013, NTU enrolled the first batch of students at its new medical school, the Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine, which is jointly set up with Imperial College London.

NTU is also home to four world-class autonomous institutes – the National Institute of Education, S Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Earth Observatory of Singapore, and Singapore Centre on Environmental Life Sciences Engineering – and various leading research centres such as the Nanyang Environment & Water Research Institute (NEWRI) and the Energy Research Institute @ NTU (ERI@N).

A fast-growing university with an international outlook, NTU is putting its global stamp on the Five Peaks of Excellence: Sustainable Earth, Future Healthcare, New Media, New Silk Road and Innovation Asia.

NTU has a satellite campus in Singapore's Science and Tech Hub, One-North, and is setting up a campus in Novena, Singapore's medical district.

Track 1: Chinese Language & Cultural Studies (6 AUs)

Overview

This track consists of two parts – Part 1 is the Chinese Language skills and Part 2 is the Chinese Cultural Studies .

In this track, two levels of Chinese language skills are offered - basic and intermediate, to cater to different learning needs of the students. Besides acquiring Chinese language skills, this course will also expose them to the intriguing Chinese cultures.

This track will be conducted over 4 weeks in July 2015, Mondays to Fridays, 9.30am – 5.00pm, at the NTU campus. Student may choose the language level that best suit them.

Description

Part 1: Chinese Language

LC9001 Beginner Chinese Language	The Chinese language course is specially designed for students with little or no background on the language to gain insights into the Chinese Language. The course contents are topics-based to help you master basic conversational skills for daily usage. Basic reading and writing skills are also introduced to help students accumulate Chinese vocabulary and enhance their learning of the Chinese language.. At the end of the course, students will be able to understand and construct simple phrases, conduct basic conversations as well as learning how to write basic strokes, character components and single-component characters. They can expect to learn up to 260 Chinese characters, 40 grammatical points and 300 commonly-used sentences.
LC9002 Intermediate Chinese Language	This course is a continuation of the Beginner Chinese Language course. It aims to improve and enhance the skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing in an integrated manner, with emphasis on developing communicative skills in order to carry out conversations on a range of topics related to daily life. The course will also enable students to acquire skills to speak and write Chinese paragraphs with confidence. Students will learn to read and write Chinese texts with minimal help and will try to learn Chinese texts without the aid of pinyin.

PENNING YOUR JOURNEY IN THE EAST

Track 3:

Creative Media and Design (3 AU per course)

Overview

Conducted by the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, this track consists of courses in creative writing, design and media. Creative Writing courses focus on the various genres of poetry, prose and film as the students recreate and tell their own Asian and Singapore journeys through writing, editing, and new media production tasks. The animation course will combine teaching basic and advanced animation techniques combined with Asian design approaches for visual development and production design. The Design course endeavour to deepen the design student's skills through designing within the ethos of Asian cultures and heritage.

The courses in the creative design and media track will be conducted over 4 weeks in July at the NTU campus. Each course carries 3 academic units (AU),

Students can select up to 2 courses from this track. Proof of English proficiency is required for students taking all the summer courses in this track.

Description

Module 1: HL2020 (3 AU) World Poetry - A multimedia performance game

This is a writing, editing and performance class focused on poetry. In this course students will write and read a variety of poems, then choose their favourites to make into an illustrated card-deck anthology. They will then collaborate to devise a group performance based on uta-garuta game rules. No previous visual art or performance experience is necessary.

Course dates: 6-31 July 2015

Module 2: HZ9202 (3 AU) Prose (fiction) - Voyages in Fiction

The aim of this course is to encourage students to recognize the world as the potentiality of fiction. Students will generate new writing both inside and outside the classroom, analyze published short stories in order to recognize their technique, and critique their own stories in a fun and supportive workshop environment. Our discussion will include the technical aspects of writing with an emphasis on what it feels like to engage with an idea and bring it to realization.
